To whom it may concern,

It is my delight to recommend Popov Vitalii for master programs in the Informatic field. I have known him as a student since Intellectual Property Law course at the Higher School of Economics. He showed himself as a hard- working student, highly motivated and meticulous.

He wrote an essay on some aspects of international law and on the initiative made a report about licensing which includes the analysis of real cases. After the seminars, he did not hesitate to raise questions and discuss the problems of his projects and job.

He also discussed his projects that demonstrated that he was not only prepared to answer any question but has pieces of knowledge in additional spheres outside legal topics.

It might be believed that his hard work and outstanding abilities are a great advantage in comparison with other scholars. And he is a worthy applicant to be invited to study the course chosen.

Feel free to contact me at ekirsanova@hse.ru if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
